

Weather for Schools

Predicting an overnight minimum temperature

Label dusk and dawn. Read the temperatures at dusk and 1 ½ hours later and mark corresponding crosses. Join the crosses and continue the line on. See what time the line shows at just before dawn. In the morning see what the minimum temperature was. Are they close? (See the Forecasting the Weather page for more details and an example graph.)

